Additional Information

Covid-19 Information & Advice

Due to the uncertainties created by the COVID-19 situation, every reservation will be treated individually on a case by case basis. We will endeavour to work with all clients to deal with any issues that may arise due to Covid-19. Changes to your original Function Agreement will be accepted up to 8 weeks out from your event date. We recommend you reach out to family and friends now that need to travel to Darwin for your Wedding Day, to ensure they are still happy to travel interstate. Should numbers drop from your original Function Agreement, and you need to discuss whether or not to still have sole use of the PeeWee's, please speak to Jaimi or Lily as soon as possible.

There is currently no limit to the number of people at a wedding or function in the Northern Territory.

The recommencement of events and public gathering is founded upon physical distancing and hygiene principles to protect the community from the spread of Covid-19. There are different requirements depending on the size of your event.

Events with less than 100 people do not require completion of a Covid-19 check list or safety plan, however physical distancing and hygiene principles should still be considered and implemented.

For events 100 - 500 guests we will need to prepare a separate Covid-19 safety checklist with you prior to the commencement of your event. This checklist will include details of which suppliers will be on site on the day, as well as your commitment to adhere to all social distancing requirements and covid-19 guidelines.

The NT now requires businesses, including restaurants and function centres to collect customer contact details as part of the COVID-Safe Check-In System. The Territory Check In app make it easier to collect customer contact details and the data is stored securely by NT Health for quick contact tracing if needed.

We recommend you ask your guests to download The Territory Check In App from Google Play or Apple Store prior to your event.
